November 2021

President's Message

The weather has just been beautiful these last few weeks. I hope everyone is enjoying the time out on the course. I wish to congratulate Jake Rosenthal and Soonhae Kim as our 2021 Club Champions. It was a wonderful weekend of golf and both will represent the club well this year.

We also had October Glow Ball and the Turkey Shoot this past weekend. Alyson Capstick and Angie Farley organized the fantastic meal and prizes for Night Golf. Thanks so much to Tamara, Tracey, and Christo for putting together so many events in such a short period of time.

Elections are fast approaching. We are still accepting nominations for President and Secretary. In addition, the Grounds Director's position is open for 2022. If you are interested in this position, please let me know so I can share with the Executive Board.

Lastly the 56th Annual SAIT is on Nov 19 and 20. If you meet the handicap requirement, and are interested in playing, please sign up under events on the Tournament Manager. Have a great November and do not forget that the final AGM meeting will be on Dec 5, please put it on your calendar.

Hit 'em straight

Special VIP Visitor

The Consul General of the Philippines, Mr. Rommel Romato, and other Phillipine Embassy team members, were in Dhahran in October. The Philippine Ambassador, Mr. Adnan Alonto, was set to attend but had to withdraw. RHGC had the privilege of hosting Mr. Romato and having him play the course on October 22nd. It was a great round of golf for all. After golf everyone attending the event enjoyed a fabulous catered dinner down at the gazebo.

The Philippine Embassy extended their gratitude for our generosity and hospitality for accommodating as well as granting them the use of the Rolling Hills Golf Club facilities. The team was amazed at its sophistication and they are sincerely proud for having had the opportunity to use RHGC.

They also hope that they would be given an equal chance in the future, if a situation calls for it, especially when the Philippine Ambassador can visit next time. The RHGC grounds crew met with the Filipino Team from Riyadh. Even the caterer of the dinner felt privileged as many of the catering team were also from the Philippines.

Executive Board members were present throughout the day as was Gil Dolor, Wayne Magaway, Chris Padilla, Jericho Pacho, Ben Silva, Russel Torres, and Amar Patel to represent our membership proudly.

HANDICAP CORNER

Understanding Course Ratings

The USGA Course Rating System™ is designed to ensure that the rating of a course is in proper relation to the ratings of other courses. If this is not achieved, players at courses rated too low will be over-handicapped, and vice versa.

Accuracy and consistency are the keys to effective course rating. A course must first be accurately measured, and the measured length must be corrected for factors that affect the playing length, which are roll, changes in elevation, forced lay-ups, doglegs, wind, and altitude. Obstacles that affect playing difficulty must then be evaluated in accordance with established standards. These standards reduce subjectivity in course rating.

What is a Course Rating?

Course Rating is an indication of the difficulty of a particular set of tees on a golf course for the Scratch Player (0.0 Handicap Index) under normal course and weather conditions. The Course Rating is expressed in strokes to one decimal point and represents the expected score for a Scratch Player. (Ex. 73.2). A Course Rating is based on measured length, effective playing length corrections, and 10 obstacle factors to the extent that they affect the scoring ability of a scratch player.

The Course Rating System™ provides procedures for determining a Bogey Rating based on the expected performance of the bogey player. This rating is used in conjunction with a Course Rating to calculate a Slope Rating.

What is a Slope Rating?

Slope Rating is an indication of the RELATIVE DIFFICULTY of a particular set of tees on a golf course for players who are NOT scratch players compared to player who are scratch players. The difference between the Course Rating and Bogey Rating is used in the determination of the Slope Rating. A golf course of standard relative difficulty has a Slope Rating of 113. Basically, the higher the handicap of the player, the more Slope Rating will affect their play.

Through the collection of extensive empirical data from players and golf holes, the factors that affect the difficulty of a golf hole have been evaluated and assigned numerical values that yield an accurate Course Rating and Slope Rating when applied to the entire course.

How does the Course Rating process work?

Raters don't actually calculate the ratings. They gather the raw data used by the Course Rating System™ that then calculates the Course Rating and Slope Rating. Course Raters evaluate the 10 Obstacle Factors laid out in the Course Rating System. These obstacle factors are; topography, fairway, green target, recoverability and rough, bunkers, crossing of penalty areas, lateral obstacles, trees and green surface. On each hole these factors are assigned a value between 1 and 10 by the raters. The data is then recorded on the rater's worksheet called a Form One or F1 for scratch and bogey golfers.

Each tee set then needs to be evaluated for men and women players. The team proceeds as golfers would play the hole, tee to green. They make their measurements and confer to reach a consensus on rating values before proceeding to the next hole. A rating takes about the same time it would take a foursome to play the golf course.

What factors are involved in Course Rating?

- Yardage is the predominant factor in determining a USGA Course Rating.
- Effective Playing Length is the corrected length of a golf course after factoring in roll, changes in elevation, doglegs and or forced lay-ups, prevailing wind and altitude.
- Obstacle Factors such as (Bunkers, penalty areas, trees, etc..) These obstacle factors are measured on a 0 to 10 scale. See table below

Length	Obstacles (Difficulty Factors)
Measured length of hole	Topography	Crossing Obstacles
Roll	Fairway	Lateral Obstacles
Elevation	Green Target	Trees
Doglegs/Forced Lay-ups	Recoverability from Rough	Green Surface
Wind	Bunkers	(Psychological)
Altitude

OBSTACLE RATING SUMMARY TABLE
Rating	Evaluation
0	Obstacle does not exist.
1	Obstacle exists but is generally out of play.
2	Obstacle is much less significant than average.
3	Obstacle is less significant than average.
4	Obstacle is of average significance.
5	Obstacle is more significant than average.
6	Obstacle is much more significant than average.
7 to 10	Obstacle is of extreme significance.

USGA standards call for courses to be re-rated every 10 years, or if it is a new golf course, every 3 years for the first 10. A course must also be re-rated if significant changes have been made. These changes might include re-location of tee boxes, alterations to green surfaces and sizes, and removal and / or addition of bunkers, hazards, Out of Bounds, and trees.

RULES CORNER

We have two Rules to highlight this month.

Rule in Focus: Accidentally moving ball when searching for it under Rule 7.4

Golf is a game of honor, one that prides itself on the players' ability to self-police. Not every player upholds those values, but last year during the second round of the 2020 PGA Championship, Rory McIlroy proved he's a cut above the rest.

Here's what happened: After hitting his ball in the right rough on the par-3 3rd hole, the camera crew following his feature group advanced up the hole. Along the way, an on-course reporter accidentally stepped on Rory's ball.

Some players would consider this great news. Under USGA Rule 7 the player has a free pass to replace their ball based on an "estimate" of where it was initially. It's an important rule for your own sake when you're out on the course...

Under Rule 7.4, if a player accidentally moves his or her ball while searching for it:

- The player gets no penalty for causing it to move, and
- The ball is always replaced; if the exact spot is not known, the player will replace the ball on the estimated original spot (including on, under or against any attached natural or man-made objects which the ball had been at rest under or against).

A rules official came over and pointed to an area where Rory could put his ball. So he did, except something wasn't quite right. He thought the lie was too good, and not where he thought the ball would've ended up.

"I don't think it was as visible as that," he said. It wouldn't have been fair to play his ball from a lie that good, so he asked for a worse lie — which he got.

He played his shot — it was a tough one — and it resulted in a bogey. Golf fans praised Rory's classy actions and he instantly rose even higher in their estimations.

Rule in Focus: Penalty for lifting or deliberately touching your ball under Rule 9.4b

Your ball is in the rough and you can't quite see the number or your identifying marks on it, so you need to rotate it or lift it up to check it is yours. Simple? Before the 2019 rules revision you had to call your opponent / fellow competitor to allow them the chance to witness your actions. Under the current Rules of Golf, you don't need to do that now, but you must mark the ball before you touch it or you will incur an immediate 1 stroke penalty for lifting or deliberately touching your ball under Rule 9.4b.

This is probably one of the most regularly broken rules. It is so easy when searching to find a ball and then lift it to see if it is yours without marking it first. If you ACCIDENTALLY move your ball during a search that is OK (but you must place it back in position, including the lie it was in — which probably wasn't great if you couldn't see the ball first). However, having found a ball the act of rotating it or picking it up cannot be described as accidental so the penalty for DELIBERATELY touching your ball will apply if it is yours. Of course you must also replace in exactly the same position before playing it.

Watch this video for an explanation. Click here.

DEVELOPING THE PLAYER, GROWING THE GAME™

Ladies' Golf

Congratulations to Soonhae from all the players in TMLL on becoming the 2021 Ladies Club Champion. A fantastic 2 rounds of golf and a worthy Ladies Champion.

At the end of September we enjoyed an evening Team Scramble. Four teams fought it out and the occasion proved to be both fun and a lovely opportunity for many of us to meet and play with new people.

After play, it was great to have dinner in the refurbished Club House and ponder missed putts!

If you're up for it, we'll be organising another similar evening game on November 24th, and I look forward to welcoming as many of the lady golfers as can make it.

Please look out for the invites and sign up!

Looking forward to the coming month, many of us will be heading to Jeddah to volunteer at the LET and Aramco Team Series. Our full TMLL monthly schedule will continue, with a mixture of Open plays, monthly medal, fun scramble and Skills Clinic with Stuart.

Below are some pictures taken from our recent Ma Salama team scramble and lunch for Brenda. We wish her and Mark all the best on their return home to Australia.
